

UCC ARCHAEOLOGY & ST PETERS present

the

PREHISTORY of CORK

A series of talks offered FREE TO THE PUBLIC by the Department of Archaeology, University College Cork in collaboration with St Peters Cork. These illustrated lectures will provide a general introduction to the prehistory of Cork, looking at OBJECTS, MONUMENTS and LANDSCAPES that date from 8000 years of human settlement prior to the arrival of Christianity in the fifth century AD. The aim is to develop an appreciation of the WEALTH OF PREHISTORIC ARCHAEOLOGY IN THE CORK REGION, and the opportunities that exist for the public to enjoy this shared heritage.

TUESDAY 22 JANUARY 2019 @5.30PM

The Age of Stone: early foragers and farmers (8000–2500 BC)

TUESDAY 29 JANUARY @5.30PM

The Age of Copper: first metalworkers (2500–2000 BC)

TUESDAY 5 FEBRUARY @5.30PM

The Age of Bronze: settlement and economy (2000–600 BC)

WEDNESDAY 13 FEBRUARY @5.30PM

Death and religion in the Bronze Age (2000–600 BC)

WEDNESDAY 20 FEBRUARY @5.30PM

Warfare and society in the later Bronze Age (1200–600 BC)

WEDNESDAY 27 FEBRUARY @5.30PM

The Age of Iron: 'Celts' and Romans (600 BC–400 AD)

THESE ONE-HOUR TALKS WILL BE HELD AT ST PETER'S CHURCH, NORTH MAIN STREET
NO BOOKING NECESSARY

These talks follow the layout of a general book available for further study:
WILLIAM O'BRIEN 2012. IVERNI: A PREHISTORY OF CORK. COLLINS PRESS, CORK.