Conference Attended:

EMBO Workshop Microglia 2018, EMBL Heidelberg, Germany. 18-21st March 2018

I am sincerely grateful for the opportunity to have attended the EMBO Workshop on Microglia and I would like to thank the College of Medicine and Health for awarding me this travel bursary which enabled my travel to Germany.

The EMBO workshop was a small but very specialised event focusing on the latest trends in the research of microglia and neuroinflammation. I had the possibility to introduce my research to leading experts, receive insight and feedback from them and have a networking experience that will facilitate my career development and future job opportunities.

Thank you again for this amazing opportunity.
