

Delivering Sustainable Urban Forests Symposium

The UCC Arboretum group, University College Cork,

Thursday, 27th April 2023

Speakers	Details
Dr Eoin Lettice University College Cork	Welcome Address
Keynote: Dr Kieron Doick Urban Forest Research Group, UK	Valuing Urban Forests
Dr Annalisa Setti University College Cork	Nature benefits for our health: for whom, how and closing the loop (One Health)
Joe McConville Tree Council of Ireland	How street trees contribute to sustainable urban forestry
Break	Tea and coffee provided
Jenni Simkin LUKE Natural Resources Institute, Finland	Is there a difference in the well-being effects of natural vs human-modified forests?
David Bosonnet Brady Shipman Martin, Ireland	Rooting for the future – Designing for Urban Trees, a practical perspective
Emma Hutchinson University College Cork	Irish Tree Explorers Network
Dr Darach Lupton National Botanic Gardens of Ireland.	Urban Trees – Future Planting in the Face of Climate Change
Dr Ana García-Villaraco Velasco San Pablo CEU University	Management of the plant-microbiome interaction to improve carbon sequestration in urban tree species
Thomas Kane Cork City Council	Cork City's Urban Forest
Alwyn White Green Leaf Ireland	The foundation for success - Creating space underground for urban trees
John Galvin Living Woodlands	Creating Tiny Forests in Urban Areas
Margaret Gormley Office of Public Works	Dublin's Largest Urban Forest – Phoenix Park
Irene Ní Shúilleabháin University College Cork	An Introduction to UCC's Greenshoots Programme
Open Forum	Chaired by Dr Barbra Doyle Prestwich, University College Cork

School of Biological, Earth and Environmental Sciences

