Founded in 1845, UCC is a comprehensive research-intensive institution comprising four academic colleges, delivering a rich tradition of collaborative teaching, research and scholarship that has true global impact. Located in Cork City, which is known for its vibrancy and culture, UCC's distinctive features and character owe much to its location and history.

UCC also has a strong commitment to sustainability, ranking 9th globally in UI's Green Metric World University Rankings. In its next President, UCC is seeking an outstanding leader with an exceptional understanding of the challenges and opportunities that face UCC's community.
