

DEPARTMENT OF ITALIAN

Final Year 2024-2025

CULTURE

• General information

Studies in the Department of Italian cover Italian language and culture. In each of the undergraduate years, students sit written and oral examinations. An important component of the mark for each module is the ‘Continuous Assessment’, which includes language work, essays and/or in-class tests, and, in many modules, attendance and participation, based on short oral presentations by students. Attendance and participation at tutorials and “Comprensione e Produzione Orale” classes are essential. Students should expect to receive feedback on all assessed pieces of work within three weeks of submission date.

Important notices for students – such as details of scholarships, and dates, times and venues of tests – are posted from time to time on the departmental notice-board at the entrance to the Italian Department and on Canvas. While every effort will be made to adhere to the dates given below, it may, on occasion, be necessary to make changes: it is the responsibility of students to check Canvas and their UCC email account regularly for information relevant to all aspects of their course and to attend lectures and tutorials regularly so as to be informed of any changes. Informal notification of events such as lectures by visiting speakers, social events, etc., will also appear on www.facebook.com/ItalianUCC, but this is not an official form of communication.

N.B. Administrative support for Italian will be provided by Dr Leonor de Oliveira (Italian Department Admin), who will be working from ORB 1.12 during the hours 9.30 a.m. to 12.30 p.m. (Monday to Thursday).

All queries should be addressed to Italian@ucc.ie

Mode of Delivery

All language classes and culture lectures will be in person. Students are required to attend.

There are no COVID-19 restrictions on any UCC activities under Current Government and Public Health advice. All activities are proceeding as normal on campus and the University is committed to enabling all students and staff to experience in-person engagement on campus. As we stay vigilant to the presence of COVID-19, it is important to continue to practise good hand and respiratory hygiene. If you have any symptoms of COVID-19, you should follow public health guidelines and not come to campus.

This handout is for general guidance only. Students should refer to the Academic Programme Catalogue (<https://ucc-ie-public.courseleaf.com/programmes/>) and to the Book of Modules (<https://ucc-ie-public.courseleaf.com/modules/>).

Semester 2 (Dr Daragh O'Connell)

- Tuesday, 15.00-17.00, ORB 2.44 [commencing Tuesday, 14 January 2025]

This module will focus on aspects of Dante's Purgatorio and Paradiso as well as his earlier poetry and achieve critical understanding of his poetics. Texts, etc., will be studied in Italian by students taking Italian as part of their degree programme, and in translation by other students.

IT3317 Cinematic Representations of the 'anni di piombo' [5 credits]

- Semester 1 (Dr Chiara Giuliani) Friday, 10.00-12.00, SIL_SR1 [commencing Friday, 20 September 2024]

This module will study a selection of films about terrorism in Italy in the 1970s and early 1980s. We will look at chosen films about the anni di piombo and by analysing historical events and key Italian figures portrayed in these films, as well as the social context in which these films sit, the course will focus on the role of memory, but also on the representation of Italy and how daily life was affected by this critical moment. We will also examine the extent to which these films shape Italians' contemporary perception of those years.

IT3318 Unearthly Narratives: Italian Tales of the Fantastic and Apocalyptic [5 credits]

Semester 2 (Dr Marco Amici)

- Wednesday, 11.00-13.00 2 Elderwood_ G01 [commencing Wednesday, 15 January 2025]

This module will examine a range of Italian texts that can be ascribed to the fantastic mode and the apocalyptic genre to explore their challenge to conventional representations of reality. Topics to be discussed will include: gothic and fantastic as social critique, apocalypse and climate change.

IT3401 Minor Dissertation [5 credits]

Semester 2 (Dr Daragh O'Connell)

This module is for students taking 40 credits or more in Italian and consists of directed study in the form of guided research and the preparation of a dissertation. This module allows students to explore in depth a topic of Italian culture agreed with the Head of Department at the beginning of the academic year.

LL3002: Travel Writing: [5 Credits]

Module Co-ordinator: Dr Silvia Ross, s.ross@ucc.ie Semester 2.

- Tuesdays, 1.00-2.00 p.m. in C_ELECT L2
- Thursdays, 3.00-4.00 p.m. in C ELECT L2. [Commencing Tuesday, 14 January 2025]

This module examines the theory and practice of travel writing. Students will read a set of texts (in English and in English translation) that range from nineteenth century literature to contemporary writing. We will be looking at writers who have travelled to such places as Italy, Spain, North Africa and the Middle East, among others. We will consider issues such as the nature of the genre, the relationship between writing and travelling, and the conceptualization of foreign cultures.

LL3102: European Cultural Identities 2: Cultural Capitals [5 credits]

- Monday 1.00-2.00 pm ORB 2.12 &
- Tuesday 4.00-5.00 pm in ORB 2.12 [Commencing: Monday, 13 January 2025].

Europe has often had a notional capital - a dominant cultural centre. At the same time, there have always been important, diverse roles for a range of cities across the continent. This course aims to look at the idea of a cultural capital, from Rome to the annual EU award of the title, and to explore in more detail the cultural productions and contexts around a particular city at a given point in history.

Please note: You may only sign on for ONE LL module per subject.

ESSAY SUBMISSION:

All essays should be submitted as indicated by the course lecturer. The departmental policy on the penalty for late submission for each module is available in the Book of Modules: <https://ucc-ie-public.courseleaf.com/modules/>. No work will be accepted later than the beginning of the examination period. All essays must be submitted electronically via Canvas. Essays must not be posted, handed directly to lecturers or put under their office door. No responsibility will be accepted for essays not submitted in the above format.

*Students should expect to receive feedback on all assessed pieces of work within three weeks of submission date.

➤ Special Note - Plagiarism

Plagiarism involves the taking and using of someone else's words or ideas as if they were one's own. References to secondary literature must be acknowledged in the text of an essay and in the bibliography at the end. Failure to do so will incur severe penalties, including a student possibly not passing the module. Note that the Department avails of the UCC site licence for Turnitin, which is designed to detect the use of printed and Internet sources in student work, and may require work to be submitted through the programme via Canvas. Early use of this programme will help students identify potential problems in their work.

Further information will be provided with essay titles and deadlines for individual courses.

Students should consult the departmental style sheet for guidelines on essay writing. Students should also familiarize themselves with the UCC policy on plagiarism, available at

<https://www.ucc.ie/en/exams/procedures-regulations/>

For further information on essay writing, students should consult the very useful advice of the UCC Skills Centre, available at: <https://www.ucc.ie/en/skillscentre/academicwritingstudyingresources/>
