CAROL MC CARTHY – SCHOOL OF PHARMACY

Conference Attended: Controlled Release Society (CRS) Annual Meeting and Exposition, Location: Boston, Massachusetts, USA 16th-19th July 2017

I attended the 2017 CRS Annual Meeting in Boston, Massachusetts which is one of the largest and most prestigious conferences in the field of drug delivery technology. This conference attracts industry representatives from multinational pharmaceutical companies and scientists from the most innovative and pioneering labs and research centres worldwide. It was a fantastic experience to hear plenary talks from leaders in the field such as Dr Robert Langer (MIT), Henry Brem (John Hopkins) and Paula Hammond (MIT).

There was a comprehensive program of events for young scientists including an excellent CV and interview techniques workshop on the first day. The scientific program featured talks on a wide range of topics including presentations relating to my own area of research and emerging technologies in the field.

I presented a poster of my work at the conference and gained valuable insights and feedback from colleagues which will inform my future work.

Thank you to the COMH for this opportunity.
