Conference Attended: Pharmacology 2014 meeting, Location: London, UK. 16th-18th December 2014.

I would like to thank College of Medicine & Health for granting me a travel bursary for this meeting, which was organized by British Pharmacological Society. It attracted a huge number of participants from the UK, across Europe and overseas with presentations on wider range of topics from basic and clinical pharmacology.

I had opportunity to present my research work to a large international audience and received very positive feedback and comments. I also attended speeches delivered by renowned scientists, interacted with various researchers and benefitted from attending oral and poster presentation session. Overall, attending this meeting had a very positive impact on my research skills.
