Seminar Attended:

Metagenomics Bioinformatics at the Wellcome Genome Campus, Hinxton, Cambridge

I attended this week-long seminar at the European Bioinformatics Institute on the Wellcome Genome campus in Cambridge to gain an understanding of the software available to process my microbiome sequencing data. It was an intensive course delivered succinctly by experts in the field and was a huge benefit to my research. The knowledge and tools provided will increase the value I can extract from my research now and in the future.

Thank you to the CoMH for this incredible opportunity.
