Conference Attended:

European Behavioural Pharmacology Society Biennial Meeting – 28-31 August 2019 – Braga, Portugal

EBPS meeting was a great opportunity to learn from and contact with world-class scientists, while hearing about techniques that will surely shape the field in the upcoming years.

There was a lot of discussion around established paradigms as well as intriguing evidence, particularly in the behavioural field. Apart from getting the opportunity to attend talks from renowned scientists in my topic, I also got the chance to showcase my findings and get valuable feedback at this stage of my PhD.

Besides, as this conference covered a broad range of topics, it was great to network and exchange ideas that make us think outside the box.
