

MA in Teaching Chinese to Speakers of Other Languages

汉语国际教学硕士专业

Programme Overview

The programme aims to provide students with the theoretical knowledge and professional competencies required to teach Chinese effectively to speakers of other languages. Students gain specific professional skills through teaching practice, class observation, field-trips, materials writing, testing and other areas. On leaving the programme, they will be prepared to teach Chinese in a wide range of contexts and they will have the necessary professional skills to further develop their capacities and careers in Chinese language teaching or associated fields in Ireland or globally.

Opportunities

Global expansion in the teaching of Chinese means that there is growing worldwide demand for highly-qualified Chinese language professionals including teachers. Graduates can work as teachers or in a range of associated areas such as language education management, publishing and intercultural project development. This MA offers a prestigious qualification which can be a passport to employment as an international Chinese language teaching professional in Ireland and anywhere in the world.

满足汉语教育国际化对全球高素质汉语教学专业人才的需求；提供了广泛的就业前景：毕业生可在爱尔兰及其他国家担任汉语教师或从事语言教育管理、出版或文化项目开发等相关工作。
