

Derek O'Connell, Luberon after Cezanne

Learn to See, See to Learn

June 9 – July 9 2011

Pat McCluskey, An Fear Marbh

Marking the integration of Arts into the College of Medicine and Health curriculum
at University College Cork
An exciting collection of new work by Staff & Students.

Jennings Gallery
Brookfield Health Sciences Complex
University College Cork
www.ucc.ie/en/jennings-gallery

This inaugural exhibition brought together a diverse group of exhibitors from the schools of Medicine, Nursing, Occupational Therapy, Speech Therapy, Pharmacy and Dentistry to celebrate the creative ability of healthcare professionals.

It marked a threshold in the history of the College of Medicine and Health Sciences (CoMH) at UCC with an Executive decision ensuring that the Arts would become an integral part of the student curriculum.

Independently developing their skills in the Arts heretofore, these artists now enjoy a framework of support within UCC with the CoMH promoting a generation of new ideas, connectivity and programs in the Arts to support a new appreciation of creative practice within the university.

'Learn to See' reflects the mission of the College of Medicine and Health in relation to the arts and echoes the motto of Leonardo da Vinci – "Sapere Vedere"- Learn to Look
The diverse pieces in this exhibition provided an insight into the level of enthusiasm for creativity within the student/staff population and offered a kaleidoscopic view of ideas about where the arts and health sciences connect.