

Walking and cycling are sustainable and healthy travel choices. You can save costs and time by combining your travel with your daily-required exercise. Cycling 10 kilometres each day instead of driving saves about €800 in transport costs and 1.3 tonnes of greenhouse gas emissions each year. Walking is free!

