UCC Societies Executive Policy

1. Introduction

UCC Societies is the governing body of all UCC Societies. As per the Societies Constitution the Societies Executive, as the representative body for societies and their committees, is responsible for the drafting of policy for ‘the good running of Societies’. From March 2014, policies that have been drafted by the Societies’ Executive are required to be ratified by the Societies’ Senate. For ease of access and in the spirit of transparency all policies, procedures and operational rules shall be added to this document. It is envisioned that this document will be amended and added to over time. Any motions passed by Senate will also be added into this policy book. To gain a full understanding of the policies and procedures of UCC Societies this document should be consulted in tandem with the Constitution, Strategic Plan and Schedule of Allowances.

2. Recognition of Societies

2.1 Registered Societies

Registered Societies must operate in accordance with UCC Societies policy. As outlined in the UCC Societies Constitution, registered Societies are entitled to:

- Display posters within the university in line with UCC Societies guidelines.
- Book rooms in accordance with the procedures of the relevant UCC offices.
- Hold events on campus.
- Represent their Society off campus.

Registered Societies must maintain regular communication with the Societies Executive. The Societies Executive has the authority to terminate a Society if it refuses to communicate with, or acknowledge, the Executive as the regulatory body for UCC Societies.

Each Society is subject to a Mid-Year Review. This review is conducted by the President in conjunction with the officer who represents the Society's repping group on the Executive (the Rep.). Details of procedures are outlined in Section 2.3.1.

2.1.1 Society Emails

All Societies must operate from their designated @UCCSocieties.ie email address only. All society committee members should be given access to the society's @UCCSocieties.ie email address once their term begins, to allow access to society information, trainings, and resources.

2.2. Disbandment

The Societies Executive may disband a Society in the following cases:

- Refusal to communicate with, or acknowledge, the Executive as the regulatory body for UCC Societies.
- Serious or repeated misconduct.
- Significant or ongoing breaches of UCC Societies regulations.
- Significant or ongoing breaches of broader University policies.
- Failure to pass the Mid-Year Review in 2 out of 3 consecutive years (see Section 2.2.1).

A disbanded Society wishing to regain registered status must apply through the New Society application process. However, reapplication is not permitted until two years have passed from the date of disbandment.

2.2.1 Mid-Year Review

The Mid-Year Review is conducted annually at the end of Semester 1. It evaluates each Society's activity, engagement, and conduct across several areas, including but not limited to:

- Attendance at mandatory trainings and Senate.
- Engagement with the Society's Executive Representative.
- Accessibility of social media and events.
- Financial management.

The review is conducted by the President in collaboration with the Executive. Any Society that fails the review will be invited to meet with the Executive to discuss results and, if necessary, develop a corrective action plan.

Failure to respond to this meeting request will result in the Society being put forward for a vote on disbandment at an Executive Meeting at the end of the term. Failure to pass the Mid-Year Review in two consecutive years may also result in disbandment.

Societies which receive 50% or less in their Mid-Year Review will receive an End-of-Year Review at the end of Semester 2. This will inform the decision for the society to be put forward for disbandment.

3. Finance

The Societies Executive distributes funding allocated by the University to Societies through the Finance Sub-committee, which is composed of the President, Executive Finance Officer, Societies Officer, and Senior Executive Assistant.

Each Society is provided with:

- A bank account.
- Access to finance via the Societies Portal.

End-of-year accounts must be completed by the Societies Office, then ratified by both the Finance Sub-committee and the Society itself. This Financial Report must be included in each Society's Crossover Document.

Note: Funding for Political Party Societies and Charity Societies is limited in line with guidelines from the Standards in Public Office Commission, Charities Act 2009 and Charities Regulator's Guidance.

All policies in relation to Societies and Finance can be found in UCC Policy in Relation to UCC Societies.

3.1 BDS Guidelines

Finance requests for products and services that fall under the UCC Societies BDS \(Boycott, Divest, Sanction\) Guidelines will not be approved. Exceptions may be made if the Society can demonstrate that the item or service cannot be purchased or provided from an alternative source. This should be provided within the finance request.

4. UCC Societies Portal

The UCC Societies Portal is the system through which Societies manage their organisation, events, and finances.

All committee members must be added to the Portal after every AGM, EGM, or election by interview. Access to the Portal is restricted to official committee members only. An individual is only recognised as a committee member if they are listed on the Portal.

Sub-committee members, who are not part of the main committee, are not permitted to be added to the Portal.

Societies must use the Portal to manage all finances and record income and expenditure throughout the year. For more detail on finance procedures in the Portal, refer to the Finance Policy and training materials.

5. Society Events

All UCC Societies events are subject to UCC Policies and Procedures. All students should be able to attend a society's event without fear of bullying or harassment. All speakers, facilitators and participants at society events must follow the UCC Student Policies & Procedures. Under no circumstances should abusive, personal, or aggressive comments be made at a society event.

The following are the rules that pertain to event organisation:

- Risk Assessments must be completed and approved before a room can be booked or an event publicised.
- Rooms should be left the way they were found.
- Room bookings must be submitted at least 48 hours in advance of an event.
- Mystery tours are not allowed.
- Events involving animal racing or animal racing organisations are not allowed.
- Maximum two free drinks per person for any on-campus function.
- Maximum one free drink per person for any off campus events.
- Drink vouchers may not be provided.
- Organisers of Society events such as Balls should ensure that the sale, distribution and consumption of alcohol at these events is conducive to the low risk consumption of alcohol by participants.
- All large scale events exceeding 75 attendees off-campus or 100 attendees on-campus, or any event that has a DJ or band present, must make provisions for a quiet zone at the event. This includes booking a separate room/area for the quiet space, and providing sensory activities and items.

5.1. Society Trips Off-Campus/Abroad

When attending events off-campus or travelling abroad on society-related trips, all members are considered representatives of both University College Cork and the society. As such, the same standards of behaviour and respect expected on campus apply equally when away.

Members are expected to:

- Uphold UCC Societies reputation by acting respectfully towards fellow students, staff, hosts, and the public.
- Follow all rules and guidelines outlined in this policy book, particularly Health & Safety Policy (Section 8), in addition to any instructions provided by organisers or UCC.
- Adhere to local laws and regulations in the area they are visiting, whether elsewhere in Ireland or abroad.
- Prioritise safety and wellbeing, ensuring that all activities are conducted in a responsible and inclusive manner.

At least 2 committee members overseeing the off-campus event or trip must have attended consent training.

Any breaches of conduct during an off-campus or overseas trip will be treated with the same seriousness as if they occurred on campus.

5.2 Balls and large-scale events

All Societies organising a ball must attend ball training and liaise with the Societies Executive at the beginning of the term. They must provide dates and location of ticket sales, information of any promotional events and the Ball itself.

For Balls and large functions, the following security and medic numbers are required:

- Security:
 - 1 Security staff for 100-300 attendees
 - 2 Security staff per 100 guests thereafter
 - Or according to the hotel contract
- Security staff must be booked at least two weeks in advance of the event.
- Medical cover:
 - 1 medic for 1-500 attendees
 - 2 medics for 501-1000 attendees
 - 4+ medics for 1001+ attendees
 - Or according to the hotel contract
 - Larger groups, always get advice from Tekken Security
- Student Care Support (SCS), provided by Tekken Security:
 - 2 SCS members for 200 attendees or less
 - 3 SCS members for 200-500 attendees
 - 4 SCS members for 500-1000+ attendees

Societies organising events like markets or events on campus, that include vendors, must follow the UCC Casual Traders on Campus Policy.

Societies liaising with high-profile guests must consult the Protocol for VIP Visit to UCC.

5.3 Inclusive Media & Events

All UCC Societies are required to avoid the use, promotion, or support of media connected to the author J.K. Rowling.

This policy applies to all society activities, including (but not limited to) event themes, performances, screenings, competitions, publications, promotional material, and social-media content.

Societies must not organise or participate in events which use or promote creative works authored, produced, or financially benefiting JK Rowling, including the Harry Potter series, related films, or derivative franchises.

Where uncertainty arises regarding whether a work or activity falls under this policy, societies should consult the Societies Executive for guidance before proceeding.

6. Sustainability

6.1 Postering

Advertising is key for promoting a Society. Printing facilities for Societies activities are provided in the Clubs and Societies Office, in the Hub. Other signage includes the digital poster boards in the office, and near the Quad. The following are the rules that pertain to postering and ads:

- Abuses of the printing service will result in a €50 fine for the Society. This includes but is not limited to excessive printing, unstamped posters, printing unrelated materials, or ignoring guidelines.
- Societies shall not poster over another Society's poster. However, if a poster is out of date you may remove it to make space.
- Each poster must clearly show the Society's name and title of the event. A sponsor's name shall not be bigger than that of the Society's.
- Only A4 or A5 posters are allowed.
- A maximum of 12 posters per event are allowed.
- All posters must be approved and stamped by the Societies Office before being posted anywhere.
- It is encouraged that all posters should be recycled correctly after use.

Posters must be removed maximum one week after an event takes place. If a poster is not removed in this timeframe, the society in question will have to pay a €50 fine. After three offences, the Societies Office will not stamp the society's posters for the duration of one semester. The full printing guidelines are available on page 8 of the Guide to Admin.

6.2 Plastic-free Policy

The policy calls on the university to remove the following single-use plastic items by 2023. The items covered by this policy include:

- Single-Use beverage containers i.e. coffee cups, drinks cups etc.
- Single-Use salad containers/lunch boxes
- Single-Use plastic cutlery
- Single-Use plastic bottles (e.g. for water/soft drinks)
- Plastic Cutlery & Plastic Packaging (e.g. Individually wrapped sweets/Sandwiches etc)

This means that the single-use plastic items listed above are not to be distributed by anyone at UCC, including by Societies or at society events.

7. Branding

When branding any item in relation to UCC Societies, or the UCC Societies Executive, the UCC Societies approved branding must be used. This is inclusive of fonts, colours and logos which are all outlined in the UCC Societies brand pack. This branding must not be altered in any way. The correct logos needed for branding are available from the UCC Societies President and PR and Media Officer.

Individual Societies must make clear on their promotional material including logo and social media accounts that they are a registered UCC Society and must adhere to the following format of their name: UCC X Society or the equivalent name in the working language of the society.

Individual Societies are permitted to use their own logos, provided they are approved by the UCC Societies Executive. If a society wishes to rebrand, it must be sent to the PR & Media Officer, to be approved by the Societies Executive. A society may only rebrand once every three years.

8. Health and Safety

All societies as well as the Societies Executive are expected to maintain a high level of health and safety at all society events, including off campus events such as trips, balls etc. All events, both on and off campus, must be risk assessed in accordance with the health and safety policies. All risk assessments must be submitted a minimum of two weeks in advance, and cannot be advertised until approved.

All health and safety policies including risk assessments are available on the UCC Societies website.

9. Emergency Guidelines Policy

In response to any state of emergency, guidelines may be implemented by UCC and/or the Irish Government which may restrict the activities of Societies in certain capacities. These restrictions (i.e. no in-person events, limited numbers of attendees, etc.) will be communicated to all societies via email from either the Societies Officer or the Societies President. All societies are required to adhere to these guidelines in their entirety for the safety and well-being of committees, members and the population in general.

If a Society is found to be in breach of any rules implemented in the manner outlined above, a report will be filed with the relevant University authorities.

10. Bullying and Harassment Policy

This policy outlines the definitions of behavior that UCC Societies views as discriminatory and unacceptable. 11. Complaints Procedure

In the event a society member, a general member or a committee member, would like to make a complaint against another society member, a member of the Societies Executive or a Society within UCC, the following procedure will apply:

At the first instance, the complainant should contact the Societies Executive Welfare Officer, Societies President or in some instances Societies Officer to discuss the alleged complaint with them briefly and informally.

Where appropriate the student may be asked to fill out the Societies Complaints form. Once signed by the complainant matters will then be discussed in full with the Societies President and Societies Officer. In the event the complaint is about the Societies President, the Vice-President or another member of the Societies Executive will then step in. This form will be kept on file in the Societies Officer Drive for a period of seven years, in line with UCC's GDPR data storage policy.

It should be noted that UCC Societies can only deal with complaints of breach of UCC Societies Rules, Policies and Procedures. Where necessary the issue may be escalated to the necessary person/people.

Record of any meetings and documentation will be kept in a dedicated spreadsheet in the Societies Officer Drive, which the Societies President and Societies Executive Welfare Officer shall have access to. This spreadsheet will only exist to ensure that proper record keeping of issues within societies is maintained and will not be made publicly available. Access to this spreadsheet will be removed from the Societies Executive

President and Societies Executive Welfare Officer in advance of the crossover period, to be restored by the Societies Officer when deemed appropriate.

Any documentation gathered by UCC Societies during the consideration of the complaint, including the original complaint form may be forwarded to Campus Watch if appropriate. This may not preclude an informal resolution to the complaint but may invoke a formal resolution process.

Note: The discretion to forward the complaint to Campus Watch may be exercised by the Societies President or Societies Officer, where it may be alleged that a student has breached the UCC student rules.

11.2 Confidentiality

Statements, letters and other communications shall be confidential to those involved in the procedure to the greatest extent possible, compliant with entitlement of the Complainant and Respondent to the full disclosure to them of all relevant documents. Complaints that are received into an email account shall only be forwarded to relevant parties, such as the Societies Officer and the Societies President, or Campus Watch.

11.3 Procedure for Vote of No Confidence in an Officer

Motions of no confidence should only be considered as a last resort and in the most grievous of circumstances where an officer has consistently failed to fulfil their constitutional role, who has brought the Society into disrepute, or where there is a welfare concern. This includes welfare concerns raised by individual Society members, for the Society as a whole, and for the individual in question.

A minimum of two committee members may come together to bring forward a motion of no confidence against any officer on the committee. This motion must be submitted in writing to the society chairperson. A meeting with your Societies Executive Representative must be held before a vote of no confidence is brought forward.

Upon receiving a motion of no confidence:

- The chair shall circulate the motion to the rest of the committee and the officer concerned.
- The chairperson shall then wait at least the minimum amount of time specified within the Societies constitution to announce a meeting before holding a meeting of the committee to discuss the motion.
- A motion of no confidence shall take priority over all other business of the society.

At this meeting:

- A Societies Executive Representative must be present to oversee the discussion and the vote of no confidence.
- The officer shall be given the opportunity to offer their perspective to the committee in advance of a vote taking place.
- To pass, a motion must be supported by a two thirds majority of the full society committee. The officer concerned may also cast a vote.
- The voting process will remain anonymous, with the result of the vote recorded in the minutes.
- If the motion is passed the officer shall immediately vacate their position.

11.4 Motion of no confidence in the Chairperson

Where the chairperson is the officer facing the motion, the vice-chair shall chair the above process. Where the vice-chair has a conflict of interest the Society shall follow constitutional order to delegate chairing the above process.

Following a vote of no confidence the officer concerned must meet with the Societies President and the Societies Officer to discuss next steps. Depending on the nature of the reason for the vote of no confidence the concerned officer may be asked to not rejoin the society in question or join any further committees for a period of a year. This will be enforced by the Societies Officer and communicated during the crossover period.

Where a vote of no confidence is proposed but the officer chooses to resign instead they will still be required to meet with the Societies President and the Societies Officer to discuss the next steps forward. A record will be kept of the decision to resign in line with above policies on keeping of records for welfare purposes.

12. Societies Spaces

A Societies Space is defined as the Societies Office or any space where a society event is being held. These are friendly and safe environments that enable people to carry out their society work. It is everyone's responsibility to make sure that there is a positive atmosphere in these spaces. This is particularly important during times when people are stressed.

Examples of inappropriate behaviour would be:

- Any of the previously mentioned behaviour covered under definitions.
- Discussion of inter-committee or inter-society problems; these are issues that should be discussed in private and not in these spaces. The exception to this would be discussing it with the President or Executive Representative in a private meeting.
- The criticism of election manifestos.
- The use of discriminatory language including but not limited to: sexist language, racist language, homophobic language, xenophobic language and transphobic language.
- Criticism and/or the undermining of other societies' events.

- It is important to note that Society spaces are strictly apolitical and any method of campaigning done in these spaces for a seat on any local, national, or student representative body is not allowed under this definition; this includes but is not limited to the Societies Executive, Clubs Executive, or any body within the Students' Union.

13. AGMs & EGMs

Each Society is required to hold an AGM in the second term for the purpose of electing officials and reporting on activities.

AGM's & EGM's must be inline with the Societies AGM & EGM Regulations.

14. Sub-Committees

Sub-committees are groups set up to work on a particular remit, subject, or project.

- Subcommittees must be approved by the Societies Executive upon creation, based on an initial Terms of Reference (TOR), to ensure that they are regulated and comply with UCC Societies policy. Once approved, a subcommittee remains active unless:
 - It is disbanded by the Societies Executive under the terms below.
 - Or
 - Its Terms of Reference are updated, in which case the revised TOR must be reapproved by the Societies Executive.
- The Societies Executive will take into consideration the number of active sub-committees a society has, as well as the topic, reason or necessity for the sub-committee, when approving the creation of sub-committees.
- Sub-committees may be disbanded by the Societies Executive if they breach the policies outlined in this document or if they remain inactive for a full academic year. Disbanded sub-committees cannot reapply for a period of one year.

- At least one member of the society committee must sit on the sub-committee to ensure that their work is in line with the work of the society.
- Sub-committee's must operate from their parent society email or from an @uccsocieties.ie email address.
- Sub-committee members cannot be registered on the committee portal unless they are a member of the main committee society.
- Sub-committee finances should be managed through the parent society, unless otherwise agreed with the Societies Executive.
- It is recommended that societies do not have more than 3 subcommittees.
- Sub-committees are permitted to have social media accounts, however there must be a clear declaration of their Sub-committee status and which Society they are affiliated with.
- The only body allowed to describe themselves as a Society is the registered Society itself. Sub-Committees and working groups are not permitted to call themselves a Society in any circumstances.
- In certain rare cases if the nature of the subcommittee needs any additional institutional support, it can be approved on a case-by-case basis by the executive.

15. Social Media & Online Activity

This policy applies to all UCC Societies Executive members and Individual Committee Members on any UCC Society, as well as any social media accounts or web domains connected to the UCC Societies brand i.e. any individual society accounts, official committee group chats, individual society websites etc.

When branding any item in relation to UCC Societies using either the UCC crest or the UCC Societies logo, the correct logo must be used. Neither of these logos can be altered in any way. The correct logos needed for branding are available from the UCC Societies President president@uccsocieties.ie or the Societies PR and Media Officer pro@uccsocieties.ie.

15.3 Linking UCC Societies to your Personal Social Media

If you refer to your position on the UCC Societies Executive or as a UCC Societies Committee Member in your social media bio, you should be mindful that you are connecting yourself to the UCC Societies brand. It is encouraged that you insert ‘Views My Own’ or another related sentence alongside this to protect yourself and the UCC Societies Brand, noting that you do not represent the brand publicly and that anything you say or any views you share are not the views of UCC Societies.

Sample Sentences:

- Views my Own

- UCC Societies will not tolerate any form of discrimination, including but not limited to, gender, marital status, family status, age, disability, sexual orientation, race, religion, and membership of the Travelling community.

Common sense should be applied when sharing posts online. All individuals involved in the work of UCC Societies should exercise care and discretion with their use of social media.

If you are unsure if something is appropriate to post, take caution, and contact the UCC Societies President president@uccsocieties.ie, or the UCC Societies PR and Media Officer pro@uccsocieties.ie.

15.5 Accessibility Symbols

All societies must include the Accessibility Symbols, originally created by UCC Bród Society, on event promotional materials (e.g., posters, social media posts). These symbols indicate accessibility features such as wheelchair access or sensory-friendly environments, promoting inclusion, transparency, and informed participation.

15.6 Use of Generative AI

The use of Generative AI to create visual promotional materials (e.g., posters, videos, logos, event graphics) is strictly prohibited to protect artists' rights, promote sustainability, ensure fairness between societies, and safeguard UCC's reputation. This includes AI tools or third-party apps that generate images or video content.

15.8 Social Media Account Ownership

If your position on the UCC Societies Executive or a UCC Societies Committee includes working with social media on a UCC Societies associated account (ie. @UCCSocieties or @UCCElephantSoc), that account is considered UCC Societies property and remains so if you leave the position. Under no circumstance should you try to change the associated email, password or the account name etc. should you leave your position. Any materials created for or posted on the account will remain UCC Societies property unless provided for by another organisation, this applies to all UCC Societies branded accounts i.e. subcommittee accounts.

- After each term has ended, the incoming Executive/Committee members should change all account passwords to ensure former members do not have access to any accounts or sensitive content that may breach General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR).

15.9 Examples of Potential Breach

UCC Societies reserves the right to remove or require to be removed any content which is deemed by UCC Societies Executive, or relevant individuals and staff members, to be in breach of this policy.

Even if content does not necessarily contravene the policy, individuals may request content be removed from any UCC Societies social media account. The UCC Societies Executive will evaluate such requests on a case-by-case basis with best efforts made to make sure no individual appears in content if they don't wish to, even if permission was previously granted.

16. GDPR, Alcohol Promotion & Sponsorship, & Child Protection

16.1. GDPR

Societies are only allowed to use the mailing lists which are created within the Societies Office or are created under the advisement of the President or a member of staff. A breach in GDPR, i.e. a leak of identifiable details, must be logged with the Societies Officer within 72 hours of the breach, who will then report it to university authorities.

16.2. Alcohol Promotion & Sponsorship

The following points have been drawn from the UCC Alcohol Policy:

- Societies must not advertise drink deals or use alcohol as an incentive to attend an event.
- Societies must not promote consumption of alcohol whether through:
 - direct alcohol promotion/advertisement
